800 EXCLUDED FROM SCHOOL EVERY YEAR

By NATALIE WALKER
natalie.walker1@jpress.co.uk
@NWalkerWIG

The number of pupils excluded from schools in St Helens is rising each year, with almost 800 banned for a fixed term.

Figures released under Freedom of Information rules reveals that, so far this academic year, 768 fixed term exclu-sions have been handed out and one youngster has been permanently suspended.

Shockingly, despite the full year not complete, this number has risen from 666 in 2013/14 and 624 in 2012/13.

In academic year 2011/2012 539 fixed term exclusions were reported to the authority. The most common reason for students being forced to miss some periods of school this academic year was verbal abuse or threatening behaviour against an adult, with this affecting 200 pupils.

Persistent disruptive behaviour was the cause of 128 temporary exclusions and 80 youths were punished for attacking another pupil.

A total of 58 youths were temporarily banned from the classroom for assaulting a teacher and 21 were sent away for drug or alcohol related issues.

Threatening a pupil or verbally abusing them has been the cause for 37 fixed term exclusions, plus a further nine youngsters have been suspended for bullying and eight for racial harassment.

Four students have been excluded for a short while for sexual misconduct, 13 have been caught out causing

OAP beaten and held captive in burglary

By ANDY MOFFATT
andy.moffatt@jpress.co.uk
@AndyMoffatt1

An 81-year-old pensioner was attacked by a man who broke into his bedroom in the middle of the night and woke him up to demand he hand over cash.

In nightmarish scenes, the victim awoke to discover the fiend in his bedroom some time before 5am.

He then made a series of threats to the elderly man, demanding he hand over cash before going on to attack him.

Police believe the OAP was held captive for around an hour and a half while the intruder was in the house.

But despite subjecting his victim to a terrifying ordeal, the offender left empty-handed.

He fled after concerned neighbours, who heard a disturbance, called police.

The victim was left with bruises to his face and right leg and was taken to hospital where he is expected to make a full recovery.

Police searched the area but the offender had vanished.

The sickening attack happened on Monday, June 15 at a house in Whittle Street, Toll Bar.

Police have described the suspect as a white man, around 5ft 7ins tall, of slim build who spoke with a local accent. He was wearing a dark top, black plimsoll-style footwear with a white rim around them, and brown or black gloves.

It is believed the offender got into the house by breaking a window at the back of the property.

Now detectives are appealing for help catching the callous criminal behind what they are calling a "highly unusual incident".

Det Insp Paul Unsworth said: "We are still piecing together what happened. The victim is quite elderly and is understandably upset so we are giving him time before we speak to him in any great detail about what he saw and heard.

"Nothing has been stolen but the offender did make demands and I am keen to hear from neighbours and people who were out and about at that early hour of the morning.

"I want to reassure local people that we are taking this incident extremely seriously and will do everything we can to catch the person responsible."

Anyone with information can call detectives at St Helens CID on 0151 777 6811 or 6013 or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Seating at centre 'a token gesture'

By ANDREW NOWELL
andrew.nowell@jpress.co.uk
@ANowellWIG

A decision by retail bosses to reinstate limited seating at the Hardshaw Centre has been lambasted for not going far enough.

The Hardshaw Centre recently put some plastic seating outside the former TJ Hughes site after previously removing benches from the arcade.

The decision provoked a huge backlash from elderly and disabled shoppers and led to a u-turn from centre bosses.

However, many say the response from the shopping centre's owners has been nothing more than a token gesture which does little to alleviate problems for shoppers with mobility problems.

Haydock resident Eric Guest says the new seating is not an adequate replacement for the old benches and criticised the Hardshaw Centre owners.

Mr Guest said: "We should have the benches back. It used to be a place for the older people of St Helens and generations have met there."

"There even used to be a water feature. It was somewhere for older people to rest between shopping and our fathers and grandfathers used to meet there when they had retired from work.

"They would sit down and chat and do a bit of shopping, and it was also handy for people with children to sit for a few minutes."

'It feels like it has destroyed part of the old heritage of St Helens'

"A few plastic seats is not the answer, it seems like a tuppence-ha'penny compromise. What we want is the forms back as they were and our Hardshaw Centre back."

"To me it feels like it has destroyed part of the old heritage of St Helens and since they've taken the benches out we've decided not to do our shopping there. I think a lot of pensioners feel the same."

And Reporter readers were quick to speak out online, using our Facebook page to criticise the paucity of the new seating arrangements.

Amanda Davies wrote: "Just six seats. Laughable."

Frank and Veronica Woodward said they had not been back since the original benches were removed but would return at the weekend to see what the new seating was like.

Mr Woodward said: "If there's some seating now we will go back, so we will go on Saturday to have a look."

"Since the day the benches were removed we've not been back at all. We just can't take the chance of walking to the door, getting half way into the centre and finding there's nowhere to sit."

London and Cambridge Properties originally claimed the seats were removed as expert retail research suggested shoppers preferred wide open spaces in arcades, but have now put the plastic seats in after the St Helens Reporter highlighted the protests.

Rob Heald, asset manager of the company, said: "We have put some seating in areas for people to rest and recuperate."

"We had people ringing up saying we just need somewhere to rest so we took the decision."

However, he insisted the company remained committed to wide open mall areas.

Frank and Veronica Woodward, who go shopping in St Helens every Saturday, are annoyed benches inside the Hardshaw Shopping Centre, opposite the pound shop, have been taken away

Neighbours - and fellow sufferers

By JESSICA MILLINGTON
newsroom@lancspublications.co.uk
@StHelensReport

A Newton dad is hoping to raise awareness of an incredibly rare genetic condition which affects just 200 people in the country, including his son AND next-door neighbour.

Joe Atherton's son Christopher, 36, was born with the genetic disorder Wolf Hirschhorn Syndrome (WHS) which occurs in every one in 50,000 births.

This condition is caused by a deletion of genetic material in the chromosomes that occurs as a random event during the formation of reproductive cells or in early embryonic development.

There is no cure for the syndrome.

People who have this condition may have reduced eyesight or hearing, difficulties with mobility and trouble eating, but each case differs from person to person. One person may suffer more severely with one of the features of the condition than another.

Mr Atherton said: "Wolf Hirschhorn syndrome is a very rare condition and many people don't know exactly what it is. It is important to raise awareness to support not only the people who are suffering with the condition now, but also the families whose new born babies have the condition and need help and guidance as to what to do next."

Christopher's uncle, Gary took part in The Great North Swim last week in Lake Windermere, swimming to raise awareness so that more people are educated on the condition.

A close friend of Mr Atherton's and Saintace James Roby met up with Gary and the family on Monday to congratulate him on the swim.

Mr Atherton, 65, is Christopher's full-time carer and 'It is important to raise awareness and to support people suffering' helps him with day-to-day tasks such as walking and eating.

He said: "I made the decision to move into Christopher's home so that I could care for him full time.

"We have a stair lift and a wet-room so it is more convenient to look after him here."

By co-incidence, the Athertons live next door Becky Carr, who also suffers from Wolf Hirschhorn, and her family.

Honeyrose plea for help from Clarkson

CHARITY bosses in St Helens are trying to fulfil a terminally-ill man's dying wish - by arranging for him to meet ex-Top Gear presenter Jeremy Clarkson.

Staff at the Honeyrose Foundation, whose founder Lynn Duffy was named in the Queen's Birthday Honours, also want to help put the man in touch with fellow TV presenters James May and Richard Hammond.

They are hoping a social media campaign will spark sufficient interest to gain the attention of the three television stars.

The foundation, which is based in St Helens town centre, has already seen a series of tweets to the men retweeted by Twitter users.

Honeyrose wrote: "#RT@MrJamesMay Terminally Ill Gentleman, super huge fan! Not sure on prognosis, his last wish is to meet you guys. Please help! #Cancer".

Mum faces life in jail for stabbing partner

By ANDY MOFFATT

@AndyMoffatt1

A mum-of-three has been told she faces life in jail after being found guilty of stabbing her partner to death during an argument.

Amanda O'Shaughnessy, 29, admitted knifing David Butterworth at their Tlbrook Drive home in Sutton.

The 29-year-old claimed she acted in self-defence but a jury at Liverpool Crown convicted her this week of 38-year-old Mr Butterworth's murder.

Judge Mark Brown adjourned sentencing for background reports to be prepared.

O'Shaughnessy's trial heard claims the couple had frequent rows sparked by Mr Butterworth's heavy drinking.

She claimed he had been violent towards her on the night of his murder.

Amanda O'Shaughnessy and David Butterworth, who she stabbed to death

Shortly after his death, his family paid tribute to Mr Butterworth, who is believed to originally hail from Liverpool.

In a statement they said: "After the tragic loss of our son David, who will be sadly missed, the family request privacy to grieve him. David, you will always be in our hearts."

O'Shaughnessy was remanded in custody and is due to be sentenced on Monday, July 6.

Station closures up for discussion

By JAMES ILLINGWORTH
james.illingworth@jpress.co.uk
@StHelensReport

CONTROVERSIAL proposals to close a St Helens borough fire station will be discussed by service chiefs later this month.

As a result of budget cuts, Merseyside Fire and Rescue Authority (MFRA) is considering two options which would have implications for fire cover across the town.

One option is an outright closure of Eccleston station, the other is to merge it with St Helens and build a new site on Canal Street.

The proposals will be subject to a 12-week public consultation period following a MFRA meeting on June 30.

Chief Fire Officer Dan Stephens said: "The proposals are intended to minimise the impact of the cuts and maintain as fast a response as possible to all parts of St Helens district.

"Over the last four years, MFRA has had to make savings of £20m as a result of government spending cuts and now the Authority is required to make a further £6.3m savings in 2015/16.

"The Authority will face very significant further financial challenges over the course of this Parliament which will become clear following the emergency budget in July."

The consultation will involve public meetings at locations in Parr, St Helens town centre and Eccleston, a stakeholders' meeting in St Helens, three focus groups and a joint forum, the fire authority added.

An MFRA spokesman added that the proposals will not have a significant impact on response times.

Adding: "The current mean average response time to a life risk incident on the St Helens station area is five minutes 51 seconds.

"The current mean average response time to life risk incidents on the Eccleston station area is five minutes 40 seconds.

"This is significantly quicker than the MFRA 10-minute response standard and the maintain mean average response time of seven minutes 24 seconds which is only for dwelling fires and does not include traffic collisions.

Eccleston Fire Station which could be in line for the axe

"If St Helens and Eccleston fire stations closed and a new fire station was built on Canal Street then the mean average run time to life risk incidents on the St Helens station area would be five minutes 26 seconds.

"The mean average run time to incidents in the Eccleston station area from Canal Street would be four minutes 47 seconds - one minute 57 seconds quicker than the alternative outright closure of Eccleston fire station."

Last year stations in Whiston and Huyton were closed with crews now based at a new site in Prescot in a similar move as has been suggested for Eccleston and St Helens.

The meeting of the fire authority next week will determine whether the consultation period will go ahead.

If approved, the 12-week period would then start on June 30.

The fire authority said: "Following the conclusion of any consultation, a further report would be submitted to the MFRA detailing the outcome and any operational implications."

Adding: "St Helens has seen a fall of 51.75 per cent (1,888 incidents attended in 2005/6 to 911 in 2014/15).

"Eccleston has seen a reduction of 47.21 per cent (841 incidents attended in 2005/6 to 444 incidents attending in 2014/15)."

Boy killed himself on his 13th birthday

By ANDY MOFFATT
andy.moffatt@jpress.co.uk
@AndyMoffatt1

An “extremely popular” teenage boy who killed himself on his 13th birthday was NOT being bullied, an inquest in St Helens has heard.

Terry Hall was found hanged in Stadt Moers Park in Whiston on January 29 after going for a morning walk with his family's dog.

The inquest, held at St Helens Town Hall, heard the youngster's devastated parents were unlikely to ever learn why their beloved son took his own life.

Coroner Christopher Sumner ruled Terry, a pupil at Knowsley Park School in Prescot, had committed suicide.

No note was found and a toxicology report also revealed there was no trace of drugs or alcohol in Terry's system.

The inquest heard a police investigation had ruled out suspicious circumstances and officers also discounted any suggestion the youngster was being bullied at school.

The hearing was told Terry, who was the second eldest of six children, had been allowed to stay off school as it was his birthday.

At around 9am he took his family dog for a walk and eventually made his way to Stadt Moers Park - a journey of less than half a mile from his Skipton Road home.

He never returned and was discovered some three hours later in woodland in the Whiston park by a dog walker. The emergency services were called but Terry was pronounced dead at the scene.

Terry's inquest was attended by his father, also named Terry.

The youngster's death caused shockwaves across the community, with locals raising around £3,500 in a matter of days to help his stricken family.

His headteacher at Knowsley Park School, Judy Walker, described Terry as “happy and cheerful” throughout his time at the school.

She said “Terry was an extremely popular boy who was always happy and cheerful.

“He was always keen to learn and particularly loved general knowledge and memorising interesting facts. He'll certainly be remembered for the lovely smile that he always had. Everyone at the school is devastated at this tragic loss of a young boy who was so full of fun and had so much potential.”

damage to school property and two have been briefly banned for stealing.

Department for Education figures show a total of 209 pupils temporarily excluded for 'other reasons.'

The reason behind the leap in numbers isn't clear, but education chiefs in St Helens are adamant they will clamp down on problem behaviour.

A council spokesman said: “This is something we take very seriously – and our Strategic Behaviour and Attendance Partnership Group - which includes school leaders and local authority managers - will be taking a close look at this issue.

“We support schools with a range of measures including the Local Authority Behaviour Improvement Team - who provide consultation and support to schools around behaviour issues.

“Inclusion Bases can also be found at six secondary schools - where young people can be referred as an alternative to fixed term exclusion.”

Sea cadets celebrate very special birthday

By JESSICA MILLINGTON
newsroom@lancspublications.co.uk
@WigToday

St Helens Sea Cadets will be celebrating its birthday this week, with events planned for the weekend for everyone to enjoy.

Founded in 1942, the unit will be celebrating its 73rd birthday on Thursday June 25, and will be hosting a free armed forces event on Saturday 27 June.

The family fun event will see numerous organisations gather, as well as Art & Craft stalls, face painting, dance groups and singers all supporting and raising awareness for the Armed Forces Community.

St Helens Sea Cadets aim to help young people towards responsible adulthood by encouraging the development of personal attributes and high standards of conduct, using a nautical theme based on the customs of the Royal Navy.

Executive officer, Aaron Greenall, said: "Since January, we have hosted three unit weekends in which cadets have gained numerous accredited qualifications.

"Cadets have helped raise money for local and national, and have also donated a vast amount of coffee to our local St Helens foodbank."

Nationally, the Sea Cadets charity will also be celebrating its 159th birthday on the same day and have commissioned a brand new tall ship to replace the former flag ship.

This new vessel will support 900 young people on a week long voyage at sea each year, which will offer a unique environment where they can find inspiration and confidence as they work together as a team, hoisting sails as they navigate Britain's coastal waters.

Assault victim is back home and recovering

By ANDY MOFFATT
andy.moffatt@jpress.co.uk
@AndyMoffatt1

A St Helens teenager who was left in a coma after a savage New Year's Day assault has been released from hospital.

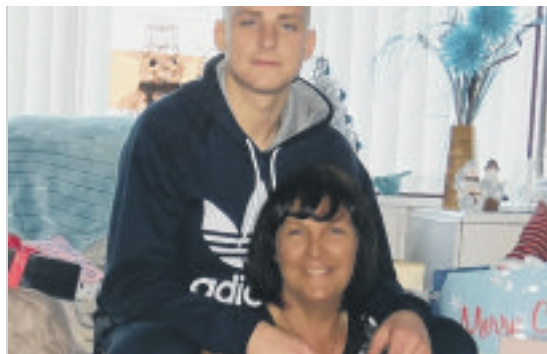

Callum Cresser, 18, has been discharged from the Walton Centre in February, it emerged this week.

And police have also revealed a man arrested in connection with the brutal attack on Callum remains on police bail - over six months after the attack which left the teenager fighting for his life.

Callum, from Clock Face, was attacked as walked home along Jubits Lane, Sutton, from a family party in the small hours of January 1.

The teenager was left with two skull fractures and a bleed on the brain.

A 41-year-old man was arrested in the days after but later released on police bail and has not been charged with any offence.

Shortly after the attack, Callum's mum Lisa wrote a harrowing account of the family plight on Facebook.

"Time has stood still, it's a waiting game," she said. "When we can't be with Callum we get strength from the messages... Thank you."

Callum, a former Sutton Academy pupil, was training to become a brick layer and the repercussions of the attack have devastated his close-knit family.

His brother Adam added: "He's a popular lad with a lot of friends. People are sending us lots of messages and we're really grateful for the support."

Police said at the time they believed there were many people in the area at the time..

Det Chief Insp Sue Coombs said: "We know there were a number of people who were in the area at the time of the incident and we urgently need to speak to them."

Big rise in number of sex offences against children

By ANDREW NOWELL
andrew.nowell@jpress.co.uk
@ANowellWIG

More than 700 allegations of sex offences involving children were made to Merseyside Police in a 12-month period, a charity has revealed.

The shocking figures obtained by the NSPCC show 744 offences against young people under the age of 18 were recorded in the county in 2013-14.

The figures only cover the whole of Merseyside so it is unclear how many of the incidents involved St Helens youngsters.

The NSPCC described the figures, which nationally show the number of offences in 2013-14 rising by around a third compared to the previous year, as extremely "disturbing".

However, Merseyside Police said more cases are being recorded because officers are dealing more effectively with such crimes and victims have more confidence in coming forward.

Figures from the NSPCC show an alarming rise in offence against children

Det Ch Insp John Middleton said: "Historically this type of crime has gone under-reported and it's really encouraging to see that we're seeing a rise in reports and that people are more confident in coming forward."

"We have had a large number of successful court cases that have dealt with both historical and recent sexual offences against children.

"These have most certainly given victims the courage and more confidence in coming forward as they illustrate how seriously both the police and the judicial system take these types of offences.

"This is reflected in the fact that more and more cases are coming to light as victims become confident that police and other services will listen to their story and ensure they get the help they need."

MP Conor's anger at 'rip off' rail increase

By ANDY MOFFATT
andy.moffatt@jpress.co.uk
@AndyMoffatt1

Rail passengers in St Helens are being ripped off by fare increases, new figures produced by the borough's MP suggest.

Conor McGinn has obtained statistics demonstrating that rail season tickets for commuters from Garswood, Rainford, Earlestown and Newton-le-Willows have risen by a staggering 25 per cent since 2010.

And he went on to challenge the Secretary of State for Transport to explain why rail fare increases locally continue to outstrip those experienced in wealthier areas.

Mr McGinn said: "The cost of travelling to and from work for many of my constituents has risen by a quarter. This is simply unacceptable at a time when many people are struggling to make ends meet.

"The Government has allowed blatant profiteering that is ripping off passengers and the Secretary of State has failed to justify why prices have been allowed to rise so quickly.

"It is not good enough. More needs to be done to ensure that transport is affordable for the people who use it."

Figures obtained by Mr McGinn show rail season tickets for passengers travelling from some of the borough's stations to Manchester now stand at over £2,000.

For example, season tickets between Garswood and Manchester were £1,888 in 2010 and are now £2,328.

Schools top table for pupil choice

Schools in St Helens are the best in the region at providing pupils with their first choice of secondaries, according to a newly released performance table.

Statistics from the Department of Education shows 95.6 per cent of the borough's children were awarded their top preference.

That far outstrips the national average of 84.2 and puts St Helens as the 12th best performing local authority in England.

"It's a performance we can all take pride in," said St Helens Council's Cabinet Member for Education and Lifelong Learning, Councillor Jeanette Banks, "particularly parents and guardians, who can be reassured that in the overwhelming majority of cases they will get a place at their first choice school."

It's the same positive picture in the borough's primary schools too - with 90.5 per cent of first preference offers granted, placing St Helens 4th in the North West Region and clearing the 87.8 per cent English average.

Andy Dempsey, St Helens Council's director of children and young people's services, added: "This high level of performance has been achieved by a combination of maintaining sufficient diversity of places in our primary and secondary schools, and providing parents with clear guidance and easily accessible advice on the admission process - helping them to make more informed choices when selecting their preferred schools."

SPOTLIGHT ON PRESCOT

A mass for peace...

The Prescot Festival's opening weekend saw over 100 singers gather to perform a moving choral work by the newly knighted Sir Karl Jenkins.

The Armed Man: A Mass for Peace was written on the eve of the new millennium and dedicated to victims of the Kosovo crisis. Some audience members shed tears at Saturday night's concert.

The arts and music festival—now in its second decade—opened Friday with the Bentley Operatic Society singing songs from those most witty and talented gentlemen of the Victorian theatre, Gilbert and Sullivan.

Sunday afternoon saw the Liverpool Philharmonic Hall's Dave Nicholas (pictured), now Britain's only remaining resident cinema organist, take to the organ of Prescot Parish Church. The octogenarian offered a nostalgic programme of songs from the shows, dance hall classics and tunes from both world wars.

One eager fan brought along one of Dave's albums, which he autographed in 1972, and had it signed again, 43 years on.

The 10-day festival continues until Sunday 28 June. World no. 4-ranking brass band Foden's are back in town for 'Brass & BBQ' on Saturday night, and South Liverpool Orchestra perform this year's Proms-style Festival Finale, with guest soloist Hannah Mackenzie playing Haydn's Trumpet Concerto.

Other highlights throughout the week include schools competitions, a screening of the 1996 film Brassed Off with fish-and-chip supper, and an evening with the Chilled Lemons Jazz Quartet. "Once again we're overwhelmed with the stellar talent on show at the festival," said Dr Robert Howard. "We look forward to a crescendo of quality entertainment as we build towards the finale of another inspiring year."

The full Prescot Festival programme is online at www.prescotfestival.co.uk. Tickets are available in person from Poco Coffee at 30 Eccleston Street, Prescot, by phone to Ticketweb on 08444 771 000, or via the website.

Academy receives top score in year one

By Lucy Hilton
lucy.hilton@jpress.co.uk
@LHiltonWIG

A soaring St Helens school has successfully received a top rating from education watchdogs in its first year.

Under the leadership of head teacher Caron Kerr St Helens College 14- to 16 Academy was awarded an impressive outcome report following the Ofsted monitoring visit.

The visit, which took place in May, only nine months after the Academy first opened its doors, received the highest possible grading with 'significant progress' reported across all six areas of inspection.

Principal Jette Burford said: "We were particularly pleased with the praise the report gave to the Academy's success and progress so far, stating that the Academy has rigorous and effective systems in place to track learners' progress and attendance."

"The report highlighted how parents noted an improved motivation and confidence in their children to raise their attainment grades, and confirmed that the data indicated good levels of progress against students' starting points."

Inspectors also emphasized in the report that teachers are approachable, they know the students and inspire them to achieve.

The report, which was published this week, also considered the exciting and extensive curriculum on offer and found that it is well designed to ensure all students follow GCSE courses and choose from a wide range of vocational subjects.

Jette Burford added: "We are extremely pleased with the inspection outcome and this cements the Academy as an established and successful choice for those wanting to pursue vocational careers whilst studying towards core GCSEs."

"It is an excellent outcome for the College and is the culmination of hard work and determination shown by students and colleagues."

Cleared of attack

By Lynda Roughley
newsroom@lancspublications.co.uk
@StHelensReport

A Haydock man who decked a rugby league star after he was subjected to an unprovoked attack at a nightclub has been told he was not to blame for sparking the violent incident.

Instead, Recorder Jeremy Lasker told Terrance Riley the cause of the trouble was ex-Wigan Warriors centre, Sean Gleeson.

Riley had been enjoyed a night out celebrating his brother's birthday when he was confronted by Gleeson, cousin of former Saint Martin Gleeson.

The pair ended up scuffling but Gleeson alone was thrown out of the Ibiza nightclub, which is in Wigan's notorious King Street district.

But when, 15 minutes later, Riley and his pals decided to leave the club, they found Gleeson outside and he again started a confrontation.

This time he and Riley became embroiled in a fight,

Ex-Warriors rugby league player Sean Gleeson after the attack trading several blows, but it was the Haydock man who knocked over the rugby league ace.

Gleeson, who had by this point ripped off his shirt, went tearing over to one of Riley's pals, Lee Jones.

Jones, fearing he was about to be attacked, felled Gleeson with what the RL ace later described as a "side-winder" knocking him to ground and causing what would later be revealed as career-ending injuries.

Gleeson suffered a fractured cheek bone and was left partly blind in his right eye following the violence.

Jones, whose "side-winder" punch is believed to have caused the damage, was this week cleared of affray while

Riley, who had exchanged blows with the player, was given a community sentence after previously admitting the same charge.

And Recorder Lasker, the judge who heard Jones's trial, told Liverpool Crown Court: "In my view the incident was provoked and initiated by Sean Gleeson."

The life-changing injuries put an end to Gleeson's professional rugby career.

He had been a rising star at Wigan Warriors but had only played a handful of games for his new side, Hull Kingston Rovers, when disaster struck.

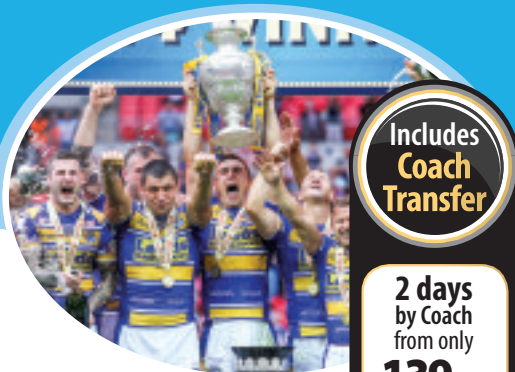

The hearing was told that 25-year-old Riley had gone into Wigan to celebrate his brother's birthday with friends and they all ended up in the Ibiza club in King Street.

Inside the premises there was an incident between former Wigan Warrior Sean Gleeson, who was holding a bottle, and Gleeson was ejected by the bouncers.

About 15 minutes later at about 4am Riley, co-accuse Jones and their friends decided to leave but when they went outside Gleeson was still there abusively remonstrating with the door staff.

CCTV footage showed that on the steps there was a confrontation which quickly turned to violence between Riley and Gleeson.

"The CCTV shows the two of you effectively grappling with each other and going into the middle of the road and both swinging punches at each other," said the judge.

"Gleeson went to the floor and if you had walked away then I do not suppose you would be here today but the CCTV shows while he was on the floor you took the opportunity to strike him once or twice.

"You took off, he got to his feet and then two or three seconds later he was struck a heavy blow by Jones. That blow was thrown by him in lawful self-defence," said Recorder Lasker.

He told Riley that he had not gone out that night looking for trouble "but unluckily trouble found you."

He added that Riley, who has no convictions for violence, was not responsible for Gleeson's injuries or initiating violence.

"You are however guilty of acting in a way that you should not have done having been drinking.

"Brawling in the street in the early hours of the morning with the public walking past is something the courts will not tolerate."

He imposed a 12-month community order and also ordered him to carry out 100 hours unpaid work.

Martin Walsh, defending, said that the incident between Gleeson and Riley had been relatively short-lived.

"It had not caused serious injury and Gleeson had "brought this on himself."

Riley, of Harrison Drive, Haydock, had pleaded guilty to affray on March 1 last year.

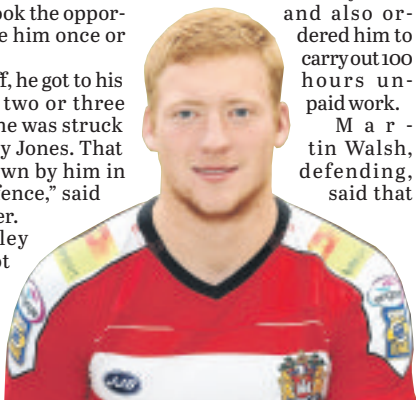

Jones, 22, of Alder Avenue, Ashton-in-Makerfield, denied that offence and a jury accepted that he had acted in self-defence. He broke down in tears after being acquitted.

He had told the jury that after the incident between Gleeson and his friend, Gleeson, who was by then bare chested, came towards him with his fists clenched.

He said he was scared and fearing that he was about to be attacked he punched him to the side of the face once.

He accepted that his blow was probably the one that caused the damage to his sight.

Gleeson, whose career had also involved playing for the Widnes, Salford and Wakefield teams, denied that he had been the troublemaker that night and said the attacks on him were unprovoked.

Hospice fund-raiser goes back to the 90s

By ANDREW NOWELL

@ANowellWIG

Fund-raisers will go back to the era of Cool Britannia to help raise money for a St Helens hospice this summer.

Stefan Chilvers, from Garswood, is one of four charity supporters putting on the Britpop-themed Like Common People night in Wigan in aid of Willowbrook Hospice.

The night at the DW Stadium will see live bands performing well-known tracks as well as some of the era's finest songs being blasted out by DJs.

The proceeds from the event, which has now been moved to a bigger function

Ex-Oasis frontman Liam Gallagher

suite after selling out its initial allocation of 120 tickets, will be split between the hospice and the new cancer care unit at Wigan Infirmary.

Stefan said: "We are doing the night in aid of Willowbrook and The Christie cancer care unit at Wigan as both provide high levels of care to people in our local area at the most critical times of their lives.

"The night is all based on the Cool Britannia theme of the '90s, with music which inspired a generation."

The event is likely to feature music by some of the 1990s' most successful British acts including Oasis, Blur and Pulp.

The charity effort is being supported by Manchester United as well as leading high street names and local businesses.

The fund-raisers have also been thanked for their efforts by the hospice.

Kylie's spinning around

BY NATALIE WALKER
natalie.walker@jpress.co.uk
@xxxxxxxxxxxxxx

Kylie Minogue wowed a sell-out 20,000 crowd to launch another spectacular summer of racing and A-list music at Haydock Park.

The pop princess made her indelible mark on the venue on Saturday as part of the Jockey Club Live's An Evening At The Races: Haydock Nights season.

Leading out with Better the Devil You Know, she took fans right back, with her early tunes Step Back in Time and Locomotion, going through the years, with favourites such as Wow, In Your Eyes and Your Disco Needs You.

You can't mention a Kylie concert without referencing the outfits and sets almost as much as the music. The first half had a distinctively sultry air to it, as she dressed in a red leopard-print leotard, followed by a glittering red mini-dress and black tie, matching the red lips on stage to represent her recent Kiss Me Once Tour.

This proved the ideal backdrop for Slow and Can't Get You Out of My Head.

Then it was all change, as Kylie sported a gold shiny jumpsuit, representing her fun self. Her dancers also wore much brighter costumes for a lively rendition of Celebrate and Get Outta My Way.

Knowing how to work up a crowd, she asked her fans to la-la a capella with her during the catchy Can't Get You Out of My Head, followed by a huge Mexican wave.

She also took requests as the crowd sang Got to Be Certain and I Should Be So Lucky with her. This was Kylie at her best.

Kylie Minogue at Haydock Park.

Later on she told an anecdote about a lifelong fan who was working backstage, called Eddie. She recalled how he had a tear in his eye as he finally met her and she sang a beautiful version of Tears on My Pillow for him. And noticing a few young faces in the crowd, including a baby, she joked: "A few little ones here, I would like to welcome them – they are smaller than me – they must be under 10."

Being Australian, she is used to sunnier climes, and so she was amazed at the orange sunset glow ahead of her and asked the audience to turn and marvel at it with her, adding that it was a huge surprise, as during soundchecks it was raining.

Throughout the night, race-goers were dancing away, but Spinning Around and Kids proved to be the biggest crowd movers.

As well as her own hits, she took time out to perform one of her favourite songs when she was growing up, Bette Davis Eyes, by Kim Carnes.

As she bowed out to All The Lovers, people were screaming for more and hanging around, hoping to catch one last glimpse of the petite singer. She didn't disappoint, with another costume change, singing one of her most recent hits, Into The Blue.

✓ We guarantee to accept you
As long as you're aged 50-85 there's no medical or health questions.

✓ Guaranteed fixed premiums for life
We simply ask that you keep paying your premiums for life, as if you stop paying, your Plan will end and you won't get anything back.

OUR COMMENT

Damage done in seating debacle

THE row which has engulfed the Hardshaw Centre over the provision of seating for its shoppers shows no signs of abating. Following a furious response to their decision to remove the benches, arcade bosses must have hoped the situation would improve by putting in some seats again. Instead the plastic seats which have appeared have merely fanned the flames and even added insult to injury, with descriptions of them including "laughable". The centre owners are in a difficult position here. It was clear that for many people anything short of reinstalling the original benches would be taken as an insult. However, this is also a problem entirely of their own making. The reasons given for removing the benches were fairly mealy-mouthed, involving retail experts who may well do genuine research but will always arouse some public suspicion. Putting a few plastic seats in also looks a bit cheap and runs the risk of being thought to treat shoppers, especially older ones who need to sit down, with contempt. This is a serious matter. Some shoppers shunning the Hardshaw Centre are probably also turning their back on St Helens and its other shops. That is the last thing the town centre needs right now.

ROADWORKS We'll do all we can help businesses

With regard to your front page story in last week's Reporter, we were disappointed to see much of our response omitted from your report. While we sympathise completely with those businesses affected by the work – and again apologise for the disruption caused – we feel it's important to explain why this is such a complex procedure. Major works have been in progress by Scottish Power since January 2015 to replace a 132,000 volt underground electricity cable from Rainhill to St Helens - taking the route of Boundary Road, Prescott Road, Duncan Street, Bold Street, Canal Street, Burtonhead Road, St Helens Linkway, Lowfield Lane and Lea Green Road. All of these streets have had traffic management processes in place so that the work can be carried out safely. This is essential work to reduce the significant number of power outages that have been experienced across St Helens in recent times. And, instead of creating extra delays, Scottish Power have actually done all they can to minimise disruption by merging two projects into one - by laying an additional 33,000 volt cable on Burtonhead Road to reinforce the local network in the Ravenhead Retail Park area. Due to the nature of work, a series of complex – and separate – operations have to be undertaken by specialist contractors once the cable has been laid. These include cable pulling, pressure testing and jointing of cables. This scheme is now in the final stages and should be complet-

TRADE Deal is a danger to nations

I'm writing to spread the word about TTIP. It's a dangerous trade deal being negotiated in secret between the EU and US. I'm one of 2 million people who have signed the petition to scrap the deal. This deal could allow big corporations to buy up some of most vital services like the NHS. It would also give big businesses the power to sue our government if they don't like the laws that protect all of us. That's just not right. Our MEPs were meant to vote on TTIP on 10th June - but when it looked like they might actually vote against TTIP, the Parliament's president cancelled the vote! MEPs still need to know that the public want TTIP scrapped. They need to feel public pressure.

COMMENT

Big issues will be debated

There's been a lot of talk about devolution lately. Greater powers for the Liverpool City Region is something we're keen to see, but the question has always been around exactly how that will happen. These are big issues that still need to be debated – and everyone in St Helens should have a say in that debate. But since the general election

I think there's a growing recognition that we need to move this issue forward. Together with the Leaders of the other local authorities in the region I've agreed that we need to find out exactly what devolution might look like and how it might operate. In particular we want to see what opportunities might be available that will benefit the residents of our respective boroughs.

As you may have read, I was appointed as Deputy Chair of the Combined Authority last week and I'm delighted that I'll now be able to play a bigger role in its work.

Some excellent news on the schools front – with new data showing St Helens has topped a regional performance league for first choice admissions to secondary schools.

According to new data from the Department for Education, the borough's parents and guardians successfully enrolled their children in first preference schools in 95.6 per cent of cases. The figures put St Helens at the top of the North West Region league table and 12th overall across English local authorities - far exceeding the 84.2 per cent national average.

A shorter commute trumps family for most home buyers

There are plenty of reasons why you would choose a specific location for your new home - whether it is to be near the best schools for your children or within walking distance of your local supermarket.

But being near other members of your family is not one of them, according to new research.

Britons would happily shun their nearest and dearest if it meant enjoying a short commute, green space and being near a good restaurant instead.

In fact, buying a home that is close to family didn't even make the top 10 priorities in Santander's survey of where makes a good place to live.

It revealed that a third of buyers make being near to work the most important factor when deciding where to buy a home. It compares to just 9 per cent of buyers who will choose a home because it is near to their family.

Space for pets and nice neighbours are also considered less important among 7 per cent and 4 per cent of buyers respectively.

Santander suggested one in four Britons are looking to buy a new home in the next five years. But the property itself is less significant, with buying decisions being focused instead on the space surrounding the bricks and mortar.

Miguel Sard, managing director of mortgages at Santander UK, said: "We are becoming a recreation nation as we look to minimise the amount of time we spend travelling to and from work, and maximise the time we can spend enjoying ourselves playing sports, enjoying green spaces and socialising in bars and restaurants."

He added: "Homebuyers are increasingly sacrificing space for location. Some of these sought-after features come with a big price tag, so it is important that they seek advice from experts to better understand what they can and can't afford."

The survey found an increasing number of buyers are looking to maximise their free time by buying properties near leisure facilities, such as bars and restaurants - up to 8 per cent from 6 per cent in 2011.

These buyers would be willing to pay an extra £7,129 for a house that was near to these facilities.

At the same time, buyers would be willing to pay an additional £6,297 for a home close to work and £5,969 for a place near green space.

Those that did want to be near family would be willing to pay more to do so, typically £8,863.

Do not believe everything you read or see on TV. Not all new developments are the same. This select development of high quality homes feels established yet contemporary. The WREN has been designed with the family in mind with four bedrooms, the American style kitchen and dining area at the rear of the property is ideal not only for lazy Sunday lunches but an ideal place to entertain with a glass of Prosecco in hand. A three storey property is becoming more and more popular, in this instance the entire top floor is designed to accommodate parents who need their own space, the en-suite may be spacious but the master bedroom is CAPACIOUS - the choice of how you utilise it is yours, flexibility is key, masses of wardrobe space, plenty of room for a train set, or finally the home your shoe collection deserves! Caraway Grove, Eccleston POA

Its Got A What? An Orangery! Oh yes, this is a really different two bedroom starter home. The brothers will tell you, its easy today to buy a bathroom or shower unit. Its hard to buy it the right way.

Take the multiples, inferior manufacturing causes the life of your bathroom pieces to wear quickly. At Bath Doctor we sell bathrooms and wash room items from budget prices to as much as you want to spend.

Back in 1984 Richard and Frank found a niche in the market for bathroom renovation and restoration along with repairs. They started their business at first working from home.

As business succeeded using an honest and expert approach - word soon spread.

They created the distinctive Bath Doctor logo still used today and displayed it proudly on their single van, they now

They can supply only or install for you too, with one important factor, they don't scrimp on quality. They can advise you in the comfort of your own home, as well as plan and design your bath and wash rooms.

More important they are professional plumbers, so they can fix and fit your new suite and install it properly, so it stands the test of time - saving you money.

They have a vast range of products including Quadrant showers with enclosures, vanity units and all accessories to complete your bathroom and washroom facilities.

And the next generation in the form of Richard Jnr is managing the day to day as the brothers look forward to retirement sometime in the future.

SUMMER SALE NOW ON

There are bargains galore at Do-A-Deal where our Summer Sale is now on. Come on down to our new showroom at Fingerpost opposite Treasure Island and see our huge selection of carpets, beds, vinyl's, laminates, mattresses, headboards, wardrobes and chests all at low prices.

Since our relocation from our old premises on Cloughton Street in the town centre, we have gone from strength to strength thanks to our loyal customer base.

We were at our old address for 12 years and we built up a good reputation for value for money and excellent service.

But due to rising overheads and lack of customer parking, we decided to move just outside the town centre at Fingerpost, where our new premises has ample free parking and much lower overheads, which we can pass on to you our loyal customer.

Here at Do-A-Deal we have always taken great pride in our personal and friendly service, there is no pressure selling and you are allowed to browse at your leisure in the knowledge that Dave or Andy are always available to give you any assistance you may need regarding prices, delivery, quality etc.

We also provide a service for our customers who for whatever reason are unable to empty their room, uplift old carpet.

We will do that for free of charge, which is something very few of our competitors will do without charge.

Our free local delivery services on most items also prove to be very popular as a lot of our competitors charge as much as £40 for delivery.

Our 'Carpet Your Whole House' deal is another offer that proves very popular especially for landlords.

You can carpet your whole house approximately 100 square yards for only £299 and you can choose from assorted carpets.

We will also call out to measure up for you free of charge and deliver locally free.

If you want us to fit your carpet we can arrange that for you at a modest extra charge.

Beds and mattresses are one of our biggest sellers, we offer a wide range of sizes and qualities for instance, Pocket Spring, Orthopaedic, Memory foam, electric beds, bunk beds and many more.

We offer a quick delivery service usually within one week, no waiting for three or four weeks like most of our competitors. You can have your new bed or mattress.

Or if we have it in stock delivered next day. All our bedroom furniture is ready made, no 'flat-pack' in excellent quality. They also come on castors for easy moving. We have a huge choice of colour and design to choose from.

Call in for a free brochure, showing all our models available and their sizes.

We open six days a week.

TOYOTA

Production with a difference

By MATT JOY
newsroom@fleetwoodweekly.co.uk
@FleetwoodWeekly

Toyota has begun production of the all-new Avenis in what has been described as an "unprecedented" challenge and a "unique achievement".

The Avenis, in saloon and 'Tourer' estate body styles and with petrol and diesel engines, joins the 2015 Auris in production at the Burnaston plant in Derbyshire.

Never before has a Toyota division outside Japan been tasked with planning, building and delivering two new models at the same time, making the achievement a unique success for Toyota GB.

The two models will be sharing a production line from start to finish, making the process of integrating the new Avenis more problematic.

The plant had to accelerate up to 800 chrs per day in just 10 days under the new system.

Jon Corpe, TMUK's project manager, said: "Normally, as production of an outgoing model slows down, the build of the new one takes over to compensate, so the number of cars leaving the plant is consistent.

"In this case, production of both models came to an end at the same time. We had to be sure we could meet global demand for the new cars immediately."

Clean sweep for Rainford teams

CRICKET

By Sports Reporter
newsdesk@sthelensreporter.co.uk
@sthelensreport

LIVERPOOL AND DISTRICT LEAGUE

Rainford achieved a clean sweep last weekend with wins for the firsts at Newton-le-Willows, a win for the seconds in the reverse fixture at the Jubilee Recreation Ground and a big win for the third X1 over Formby on Sunday.

Paul Farrar's men returned to form with a five wicket win at Newton after the home side were bowled out for 185. Dan Houghton set Rainford on their way with an opening burst of 3 for 22 and the prodigal John Dotters announced his return with 6 for 50.

Matt Bailey and Dave Tully scored 33 apiece to launch the reply and Joe Noctor (26) and Dotters (39) ensured the victory.

The seconds knocked up 169 for 9 with Nick McColl 45, Ben Hemingway 41 and Ollie Lawrenson 32 the main contributors. Skipper Andrew Harrison's 4 for 20, together with two wickets apiece for Philip Murgatroyd, Joe Bibby and Chris Spencer dismissed Newton for 85.

Ravi Mistry in full flow

On Sunday the thirds registered a 131 run win over Formby with Dan Houghton scoring 88 in Rainford's total of 210 for 6 declared. Elliot Bailey 3 for 16 and Nick Houghton 3 for 14 did the damage as the visitors were all out for 79.

Rainhill firsts and seconds win

After a delayed start because of showers, Rainhill first team elected to bat against Bootle but got off to a poor start with both openers back in the hutch with the score on only 15.

Veacock (24) was joined by Qureshi (18) and the pair pushed the score along against the Bootle seam attack of Pursner (3 for 65 off 18) and S. Butterworth (2 for 47 off 11).

After losing a couple of quick wickets Ford (60 no) played the captains innings and partnered Higham (32) and Brown (20) to allow a positive declaration after 52 overs with the score on 197 for 8.

The Bootle response was kept in check by the accuracy of Mohamed Aslam Qureshi. The left arm round spinner appeared to have the ball on a string and he removed both openers with the score on only 6.

G. Butterworth defended by attacking and he was the only batsman that could successfully read which balls to hit and which to defend. Qureshi is the Leagues' leading wicket taker with 39 victims at an economy rate of just 2.2 per over.

He continued to weave his magic and take wickets at regular intervals. The seam from the end was keeping it tight Williams (10 overs for 29), Howells (8 overs for 29), Veacock (2 overs for 1) and Mc Gladdery (3 overs for 11) were all doing a "good job" for the team but it was the Peshawari wizard that was doing the damage.

With 33 runs required off the last 5 overs and G. Butterworth still there on 93 it was anyone's game but when he was Qureshi's 9th victim, the writing was on the wall.

The last pair tried to hang on for the draw and Qureshi could have had all 10 if catches had gone to hand but Williams removed the off stump of the last batsman and spoiled the total annihilation.

Qureshi finished with 9 for 80 from 23 and Bootle finished on 165 all out.

COLWYN BAY 2ND VS RAINHILL SPICE INN 2ND

Rainhill seconds were inserted on the white county track used by Glamorgan. Atkinson (46) got the innings off to a good start but wickets kept falling to the seam of Jones (3 for 37 off 15) and Moorhouse (5 for 57 off 11). McKeown (22) and Hayes (66) ushered the tail which allowed Rainhill to get to 194 all out off 49 overs.

All Rainhill bowlers bowled well on the well manicured wicket. Wildings tricky cutters kept the Colwyn response in check. His 4 for 35 came off 12 overs. Atkinson (2 for 6 from 6), O'Toole (2 for 29 off 7) and Bullock (1 for 15 off 7) all supported and only opener Wallace (60) had any game plan against their accuracy.

He was the 10th wicket that fell and Colwyn Bay were all out for 100 off 37 overs.

Prescot and Odyssey win despite record collapse

CRICKET

SOUTHPORT AND DISTRICT LEAGUE

Prescot and Odyssey visited a well known bogey ground for them this weekend when they took on Haydock CC.

As per usual the rain had been along and made the pitch wetter than what we would expect to play on.

Losing the toss and being put into bat S Danson (33) and G Galbraith took apart the opening bowlers to race along to 84 before Danson departed.

Delaney (17) and Galbraith then took the score to 118 for 2. That's when the wheels came off in the most dramatic fashion.

With the opener setting a solid base and with Prescot and Odyssey looking to declare at 180 in a quick time they ended up losing the next 8 wickets for 12 runs.

In the history of Prescot and Odyssey has such a spectacular batting collapse been witnessed.

With out tails between our legs Prescot and Odyssey had to somehow defend a mediocre total on an ever drying wicket and outfield.

Luckily for Prescot and Odyssey not only was the wicket drying but it was now starting to produce some turn which was extracted excellently by R Delaney (4-29) and some bounce which G Galbraith (2-3) and L Mason (3-18) also used to their advantage.

Prescot and Odyssey managed to dismiss the hosts for 76 and head back down the East Lincs with all 20 points. Still 48 points behind the leaders but up into third.

CRICKET

Saints took on a strong Wigan side away at the Bull Ring and in a rain-delayed start before skipper Craig Woods won the toss and bowled first.

Wigan were pegged back early on by fine bowling from Jimmy Davies and Payne.

At tea Wigan had scored slowly, after tea it was mayhem when ex-New Zealand test player Aaron Redmond came to the crease, hit 68 off just 28 balls Wigan rushed to 204 for 2 off 36 overs enabling them to declare early and hoping to bowl Town out.

Davies only bowler with respectable figures of 10 overs 1 for 26.

Needing 204 off 43 overs Town attacked from the start. Skipper Woods was soon out caught on the boundary, and only when Reggie Gray joined Donnelly in at four, the game came alive, Young Gray smashing 67 off 73 balls, when he was out, wickets fell quickly and Town, found themselves 7 down needing 67 off 10 overs to win.

With eight wickets down both sides were in with a chance of winning, so when Jimmy Davies came in at 9, and under orders from his captain, he went for it from his first ball, smashing Wigan's bowlers all over the Bull ring, assisted by fellow opening bowler Payne, the pair took the game to Wigan, Davies scoring freely smashing 55 off just 27 balls (9 fours) town needed eight runs to win off the last over to win.

Davies hit two fours to see his side to victory. Credit to Wigan though for maintaining an attacking field throughout in an attempt to win the game.

SAINTS

Last gasp defeat for Saints as Roberts earns Cas victory

CASTLEFORD	25
SAINTS	24

By JOHN YATES
sthelens.sportsdesk@lep.co.uk
@StHelensReport

Castleford claimed their first win over Saints for seven years in the most dramatic of circumstances with full-back Ben Roberts landing a drop-goal in the last act of a pulsating clash.

Saints were on course to extend their winning run against the Tigers to 16 matches when they led 24-22 four minutes from the end.

However, Luke Gale, on the 200th appearance of his career, brought the home side level with a penalty before an off-balance Roberts broke the deadlock as the hooter sounded to clinch a remarkable 25-24 triumph.

It was Castleford's fourth win in a row as they climbed back into top four with the aid of another notable scalp, seven days after knocking Leeds off the top of the table.

St Helens, who finished with 12 men after centre Mark Percival was sin-binned for a professional foul, stay top but will be displaced by Leeds if they beat Hull on Sunday.

It was a tremendous climax to a superb free-flowing encounter which featured tries by all four players making their comeback from lengthy injury absences.

Castleford winger Justin Carney had been out for 10 weeks with a dislocated elbow but it took him just five minutes to make considerable presence felt as he produced a trademark finish to power his way over at the corner for his 10th try of the season.

However, the Australian immediately blotted his copybook by dropping the ball from the re-start and that enabled Saints to launch a flurry of attacks on the Tigers' line.

Jon Wilkin, restored to his customary spot in the pack, and his second-row partner Louie McCarthy-Scarsbrook both breached the line only to be turned on their backs but the pressure paid off when the returning Luke Walsh followed up a grubber kick from his half-back partner Travis Burns to score an equalising try.

Mose Masoe looks to off-load in the tackle.

Castleford's Oliver Holmes is well wrapped up by the Saints tacklers.

Percival added the goal and Saints extended their lead on 15 minutes when prop Alex Walmsley took Walsh's short pass to burst through the Castleford defence for their second try.

The visitors might have been further ahead but for two knock-ons from winger Adam Swift and, when passing broke down again near the Tigers tryline, winger Denny Solomona swooped on the ball and showed a clean pair of heels to his pursuers on a 95-metre sprint upfield for his eighth try in his last four appearances.

Gale added the conversion to make it 12-10 but Saints restored their eight-point advantage 10 minutes before the break when Joe Greenwood charged onto Walsh's pass to cross for a try on his comeback.

Percival's third goal made it 18-10 but Castleford were a rejuvenated team in the third quarter.

Roberts, revelling in his new full-back role, eluded the attempted tackle of Walsh and produced an inch-perfect kick for centre Jake Webster to collect and touch down in one glorious movement for the home side's third try.

Gale kicked his second goal and, after second rower Oliver Holmes had turned defence into attack by collecting a kick from Burns to romp 60 metres upfield, Castleford went in front for the first time on the hour when Gale's kick bounced back off the Saints defence to present Matt Cook with a try on his comeback.

Gale's third goal made it 22-18 but the Tigers' lead lasted only five minutes as the game continued to flow from end to end and full-back Shannon McDonnell won the race to Jordan Turner's kick to go over for Saints' fourth try.

Percival's goal from in front of the posts restored the visitors' lead but the drama continued, with Wilkin relieving pressure on his own line by intercepting a pass from Castleford's former St Helens hooker Scott Moore.

The game was held for almost 10 minutes to enable Swift to receive treatment for a head injury before he was carried off on a stretcher and Saints finished the game with 12 men after Percival was sin-binned for holding down Solomona in the tackle after the winger had gone on a daring touchline dash.

Castleford opted to run the penalty with six minutes left but decided to kick for goal two minutes later when McCarthy-Scarsbrook was pulled up for a push on Roberts off the ball.

Gale stepped up to land the 40-metre penalty that levelled the scores but he was wide with a drop-goal attempt and Walsh was also off target with a one-pointer before Roberts eventually hit the mark.

Sin-binned Percival slammed by Cunningham

Keiron Cunningham had little sympathy for sin-binned Mark Percival and was highly critical of his team after their first defeat in five matches.

Saints, who went top after beating Wigan a week ago, looked to have claimed the spoils when tries from Shannon McDonnell, Alex Walmsley and comeback duo Luke Walsh and Joe Greenwood gave them a 24-22 lead.

But they finished the game with 12 men following the sin-binning of centre Mark Percival for holding down in the tackle and also lost full-back McDonnell and winger Adam Swift to injury in the closing stages.

"You can't do that," Cunningham said of Percival. "It was just a stupid thing by the kid."

"The game probably went away from us when we pulled a shirt on before we took the field. We did our best to lose that game from minute one."

"It's hard to be critical because they've been phenomenal over the last few weeks but you've got to be good every week in this competition."

"I thought both sides had a hangover from big games last week. We were awful in the first half and Castleford were just as bad."

"In the second half Castleford decided to have a bit more want and a bit more vigour about them."

"I think mentally the boys came with a soft attitude."

"Cas are a very good side, a top four side for a reason."

"We didn't deserve to win it, we got what we deserved. If we had won, would have been a terrible injustice to Castleford. We've just got to improve."

The game was held up for almost 10 minutes to allow Swift to receive treatment for a head injury and, after being carried off on a stretcher, he was taken to hospital.

"I think he just got caught awkward in the tackle," Cunningham said. "It's more precautionary than anything else and fingers crossed Adam's okay."

Rising star Josh to join Exeter Chiefs

RISING star Josh Jones will join rugby union's Exeter Chiefs at the end of the season.

The 22-year-old, who can play either at centre or in the forwards, joins the Aviva Premiership side on a two-year deal, starting from the 2016 season.

Originally from Chorley, Jones, who has made 91 appearances for the Super League champions since making his first team debut against Warrington in 2012, admits he leaves with fond memories of the club he has been with since he was 13.

"I've had some unbelievable times with the club, especially last season winning the Grand Final," he said.

"That was pretty special, especially as we faced a fair bit of adversity along the way, but that in itself brought us all together and made us a lot stronger."

But Jones insists his business with Saints is not done - and is determined on going out on a high.

I'm focused on seeing out what I hope will be another great year with St Helens. They have always been a big part of my life just because I've been there for so long," he said.

And he hopes the rugby league experience he has gained since his junior days can stand him in good stead ahead of his new challenge.

"It's a new challenge for me and my family, but it's one that we're all really looking forward to," he said. "Exeter are a great club, they've just come off the back of a fantastic season, and having watched them a few times on the TV, I like the style of rugby they play and the way they go about things."

"Hopefully I can go down there, add a bit to the squad using my experience from playing Super League and look to make my mark as quickly as possible."

● MATTY Dawson has signed a two-year contract extension at Saints.

The former Huddersfield Giants and Castleford Tigers player will remain with the Champions until the end of 2017.

"I had no hesitation to re-sign with the Saints," he said. "To accept another deal is a no brainer."

Legend calls time on

SAINTS

By Tom McCooley

Many will argue the word legend is overused to describe sportspeople. A one-off great performance, a memorable try, even a great season are feats sometimes deemed worthy of such high praise.

But there are instances, maybe once in a generation, maybe less, that 'legend' is just not adequate enough. Step forward Paul Wellens. The lack of surprise behind the announcement of the full-back's retirement on Wednesday morning does not make the news any less of a blow. But just as fans have come to expect from their longest-serving hero, the 35-year-old's response to the closing of such a gripping chapter has been honest, gentlemanly, and full of dignity.

"I'd like to thank my teammates who have made my career very special. Win, lose or draw the people you meet, the people you play with make it special and they are friends for life," he said.

"I've had a really good career and last season was a real highlight. I have met some great people, had great experiences and been in an environment which challenges me. I have played in a great town with great people."

Wellens made his Saints debut way back in 1998 against Halifax, and has since become the first name on fans' all-time line-ups. He amassed 495 appearances, 1,005 points and a trophy cabinet in need of an extra few reinforced shelves. Since making his Great Britain debut in 1999, Wellens collected 15 Lions caps and 21 for England and won personal accolades including the multiple Lance Todd

Trophies, a Harry Sunderland Trophy and the Man of Steel Award in

Matt Gidley, and James Graham congratulate try scorer Wellens in the Catalans Dragons v St Helens game 2006. Wellens has a career to look back on which would be the envy of some of the most celebrated athletes in the world.

Looking back on lifting three Challenge Cups and four Super League titles, as well as two World Club Challenges, he said: "I've had a great career and I'm proud of my durability and longevity. I have had some luck with injuries but I've also had a really good record with the amount of games I have played."

'L' word rings true in Paul Wellens' case

The word legend is often over-used to describe a sporting star but in the case of Paul Wellens it rings true.

Full-back Wellens, who announced his retirement as a player today, has devoted his entire career to Saints - his home town club - and in the past 17 years his success story reads like a Roy of the Rovers tale (albeit in a different sport!).

Since making his debut against Halifax in August 1998, the Great Britain and England international has played a major part in helping Saints achieve arguably their greatest era in terms of picking up trophies.

TALKING SPORT With JOHN YATES

His roll of honour includes five Super League rings, five Challenge Cup triumphs, two World Club titles, Man of Steel accolade and the winner of both the Lance Todd and Harry Sunderland Trophies.

It's a record that speaks for itself and is perfectly summed by the club's Heritage Society which features every single player lucky enough to pull on the famous Red Vee jersey.

The society says "Local heroes ride high in St Helens and few have rivalled the respectful heights of Paul Wellens. With almost 500 matches under his belt and more than 220 tries to his name, Wello has been a fantastic all round player whose great asset was his reading of the game.

"A magnificent tackler in defence, he was also superb in taking the high bomb and linking up with the attack. His enthusiasm for the Saints could always be witnessed as he often used his young head on old shoulders to rally teammates when greater effort was needed. The ultimate professional on and off the field Paul gained universal respect through his unforgiving high expectations of colleagues and unpreten-tious level headiness."

Success certainly never went to his head - and having known him since he made his debut all those years ago against Halifax - he still remains the same down-to-earth guy. Affable, easy to get on with and with a vast knowledge of the sport which he has graced with dignity for more than a decade

That's why I expect Saints to find himself a backroom role, joining former teammates Keiron Cunningham, Sean Long and Ade Gardner in helping plot more success for one of the most decorated clubs in the Super League era.

What a team they will make!

his career

This season has seen Wellens battle to play. A degenerative hip condition, which will require major surgery, has limited his time on the field to just four appearances in 2015. During his last appearance, on Good Friday against Wigan, Wellens was obviously playing in a great deal of pain, and reluctantly left the field having given everything. "It's frustrating as I am used to playing but I have not been able to do that," he said, having been used to being a constant presence in the side during his career. He continued: "I knew something was substantially wrong there and I want the fans to know I have exhausted every angle possible in trying to find a way to get fit and playing. I still feel I can offer a lot to the club if my body would allow me to but sadly I can't. "It is the nature of the sport - I made my debut at 18 and played until 35 so in the grand scheme of things I can't grumble." The weight of the circumstances surrounding Wellens' retirement is evident in his considerations. Players are often congratulated on their frankly super-human efforts and the sacrifices they make to entertain their fans. The cost of Wellens' dedication to the cause is huge. Most people will never have to come close to considering the impact of their future quality of life because of their work. But he will continue to grace the club with his passion and expertise in a new capacity - and will undoubtedly continue to be a priceless asset. "I will now have substantial surgery on my hip as it is having an effect on my quality of life," he said. "Small things like being able to kick a football around with my son, I can't do that so I have to get it right."

Cunningham will not chase Locke

KEIRON Cunningham has ruled out pursuing Kevin Locke, despite being short of a full-back.

The Kiwi had his resignation accepted by Salford earlier today amid claims of unpaid wages - and Saints are short at the back after losing Australian Shannon McDonnell for the season in last week's defeat at Castleford.

With Jonny Lomax out long term and Paul Wellens' retirement, Cunningham will need to try yet another different face at the back in Sunday's Challenge Cup clash against Widnes.

And although admitting he 'won't rule out' recruiting a new player, Cunningham has already dismissed going for Locke.

"He's a great player - a super player and I'd love to have him on board," he said.

"But we probably don't have the finances to cover what he's on."

The Saints boss also revealed McDonnell may be sent Down Under to see his family in the early stages of his recovery from snapping his Achilles.

"I genuinely feel for Shannon because he's made the decision to come from Australia. He was back home with his family and

Kyle's keen to keep an eye on Challenge ties

Kyle Amor

KYLE Amor will be keeping a close eye on other Challenge Cup ties this weekend - but only as a fan.

The bewhiskered prop forward is due to line up against Widnes on Sunday as his Saints side look for book their place in the semi-final of the sport's oldest competition.

But he will be taking time to flick on the television and take in some of the other quarter finals.

"Some of our lads won't watch any rugby at all but I like watching it," he said.

"I'll watch whatever's on - I'm not sure which game I'll watch yet but you always want to have a little look don't you.

"That game between Leeds and Hull will be a good game and obviously we've got Leeds the weekend after so it will be alright to keep an eye on that."

The Rhinos host Saints in the sides' next Super League clash - and with top spot at stake, it would be understandable to forgive players for already having an eye on the contest.

But Amor's attention won't be for the purposes of doing his homework, as ambitions to reach Wembley mean the 28-year-old is refusing to look past Sunday's test.

"It's all about us this weekend. That's just me watching it as a fan really," he insisted.

"You just have to try and control what you can control. To be in the quarter-finals of the Challenge Cup you'll take anyone really. You have to beat the good ones in order to win it so it's a case of - you're in the hat - you want to be in the next round.

"At the start of every year it's a goal as a player you want to play at the biggest stadiums you can possibly play at and that's no different."

Club legend calls time on his career

SAINTS

By Tom McCooley

@TMcCooleyWIG

PAUL Wellens has confirmed the news Saints fans have been dreading, by announcing his retirement.

A year-long hip problem has forced the former skipper to consider his future, and after seeing a specialist this month, he has called time on a glittering career.

Revealing the full-extent of his battle to play on, Wellens paid tribute to his family and the club's fans, and also confirmed he will continue to work with Saints behind the scenes.

"I've had an ongoing hip problem for around 12 months and tried my hardest to battle on through," he said.

"I had injections last year to get through it – which was more than worth its while when you consider what we achieved – but in the early stages of this year I started to struggle with it again and that culminated with me leaving the field at Wigan on Good Friday."

On his future with the club, Wellens said: "I have a great relationship with Eamonn McManus, Mike Rush and Keiron Cunningham. They have been patient with me through this and I am looking forward to further working with them."

The 35-year-old, who amassed 495 appearances for Saints in an unforgettable career, was eager to credit the people around him, who have watched him collected trophies, individual accolades and international caps.

"I'd like to thank my family who have been a huge support to me and in particular my parents who have been a constant source of support and my wife Rachel.

"When you go through tough times like this, or go on tour, she bears the brunt of it and looks after our kids. A lot of people make sacrifices to do what I do."

The full-back also thanked fans, who have seen him claim a place in the sport's folklore.

"Finally, I'd like to thank the supporters as without them we wouldn't have a club. They have been phenomenal with me. In my career I have always done my best and I think the St Helens people appreciate that."

KEIRON Cunningham may look to recruit following a season-ending injury to full-back Shannon McDonnell.

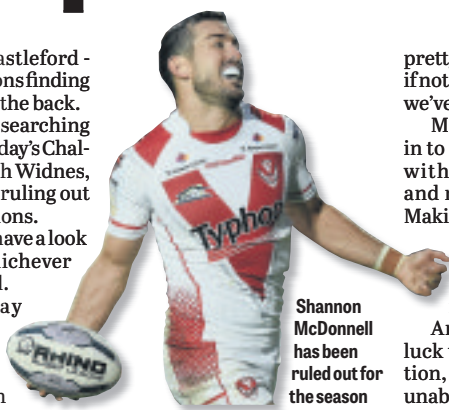

The Australian underwent surgery on Monday for a snapped Achilles – an injury sustained during last week's dramatic loss at Castleford – leaving the champions finding themselves light at the back.

Cunningham is searching for a best fit for Sunday's Challenge Cup clash with Widnes, but admits he isn't ruling out any potential solutions.

"We're going to have a look at everything – whichever suits really," he said.

"You never say never. We'll have a look out there and if we can bring something in

Shannon McDonnell has been ruled out for the season pretty sharpish then we will, if not then we'll run with what we've got."

McDonnell was drafted in to cover the full-back spot with Jonny Lomax (knee) and makeshift No.1 Tommy Makinson (leg) sidelined long-term and Paul Wellens announcing his retirement from playing.

And with such wretched luck this term with the position, Cunningham joked he's unable to find volunteers.

"I don't think anyone wants it – they keep getting injured," he smiled.

"We have a few options. We'll have a look during the week and see who drops in there."

"Apart from that we're quite fit."

And ahead of Sunday's Challenge Cup quarter-final, the Saints boss is adamant his squad looks healthy, despite a treatment room resembling the platform at Waterloo Station.

"We're in quite a good spot of being quite healthy at the minute so we'll see which suits and then we'll shoot with that," he explained.

"We're sort of used to it as a squad."

"Believe it or not we see it happen that many times it doesn't really affect us."

"You feel for the player that's got the injury – but it doesn't really have a bad affect on the squad because you are used to seeing it."
